

HIGH MOUNTAIN FEVER

June 1st was the opening of the high mountain water fishing season here in the Pyrenees.

At Salvelinus we feel that the high mountain waters are some of our best. Not only is the fishing great but the all around experience of the mountain ranges can take your breath away. Around every corner there is another surprise and every valley has its own distinct look and feel to it.

And of course lets not forget about the Brook Trout(Salvelinus). These glorious colored fish with their white tipped fins, are for us some of the prettiest fish we have seen, and anyone who catches one will be impressed not only with their beauty but their fight as well.

We were fortunate enough to have some great people pass thru the lodge this last month and have made some great new friends. A couple from the States enjoyed a helicopter ride to a fantastic lake and were able to catch and see some great looking Trout. And Jo Anne was able land a great 19 inch brown. Another American Jere also left the lodge with a fantastic day of fishing Brookies, beating his record for fish caught in a day and also pulling in a monster 5.25 pound Rainbow at the last hole of the river on his last day of the trip.

As always at Salvelinus we hope that all our guest leave the lodge and the high mountain waters with great memories of fish caught and of fishing scenarios that are unique only to the Pyrenees.

Buena pesca.

What a ride!!!
Many of this months guests took a helicopter ride up to some spectacular fishing spots

FLY BOX

- Pyrenees Chernobyl 12
- Light colored mayflies size 10-16
- Beetle size 10
- Black Caddies size 14
- Golden stone fly nymph size 10-14
- Orange streamers with rubber legs